

Cosmic Healing "The Cosmic Healer"

Use Cosmic Energy (Colors) with Hand Techniques to transform & heal the students' energy. Check the student's aura by sweeping (tuning up) their body using the palm technique. The head is hotter because the brain consumes 10x more energy than rest of body. Center of the body is warm (liver is cooler than the heart); and the lower body is cold.

Cosmic Chi Kung

There are energy fields all around us in nature; we can learn to absorb this energy but we live in artificial environments. The magnetic field of the earth is an energy field and we can be learning to feel & heal with this force. Earth energy origin is the magnetic field on its surface & its gravity at the center, which holds everything together. The earth, moon, & sun create the water & oxygen cycle (universal & earth energy). The Feng Shui of lake (water), mountain (wind) water & forest create this energy which are different energies balanced with harmony.

Cosmic Particles (Cosmic Energy):

1. Look at horizon you can see small particles (cosmic star dust).
2. Look straight then at the sides of the eyes and you can pick up the particles.
3. To take in the cosmic energy which the lungs cannot digest it, so we must breath in through middle eye & mix with the salvia & shallow to assimilate the energy. We can also absorb it through the feet, toes, fingers, mideye & crown points by training the body to open & absorb it at these points.

Best Breathing Practice time is 3:00am - 7:00am when atmosphere is full of cosmic particles (chi).

The Crystal Room is connected to three points of the crown: Pituitary Gland to the Mideye, Hypothalamus gland to the Middle Crown point, & the Pineal gland to the Back Crown point.

3. Open mouth - large intestine lung at hips
Middle finger - pericardium at hips
Side hand (Baby finger) chi knife - small intestine at hips

Cosmic Healing Chi Kung

Introduction: Taoists believe in the underlying unity that permeates the Universe. Cosmic Healing is a Chi Kung meditation that strengthens and opens us up to the forces and energy within Nature and the Universe. We are dynamically connected to the infinite and infinitesimal at the same time. "As above, so below" is an echo of wisdom heard from sages and mystics from all ages. When we can channel the energy that surrounds us, the pathway reveals the many splendors of the Cosmos. This unity can be witnessed in many aspects of life. The fire of a candle burns and sheds light because of the intimate bond shared with the sun. Without the source of energy in the sun, the candle has no light of its own. The candle is a reflection, a mirror of the light in the sun. Like the candle, we are a reflection of the light and energy in the Universe, drawing in the life force of the sun in the air we breathe, the food we eat, and through all of our senses. The magnetic field of the Earth is the source of magnetism in all the smaller magnets on the planet. Without the relationship to the Earth, magnetism would cease to exist. Our relationship to the whole and the Universe is much the same way. We exist because of the unique combination of forces that surround us. The Taoists₂ recognized this connection, and created Chi Kung to enhance our relationship to the understanding of the Tao.

Theory

The Taoist practice provides us with the resources to extend beyond the realm of our senses. By tapping into our internal resources and channeling the energy around us, we can perceive much more than the senses normally report to the mind. For example, our senses tell us that the Earth is flat, that we are stationary, and that heaven is above us. In reality, the Earth is a sphere hurtling through space at thousands of miles per hour, and the heavens are above, below, and beyond the Earth in every direction. The goal of Cosmic Healing is to connect with the forces from the six directions – above, below, left, right, front, and back – and draw all these forces into the body. Eventually, with practice, one can draw upon all different kinds of energy and use them as needed, thereby, giving form to the formless. Cosmic Healing is just another one of the many resources the Taoist practitioner uses to connect with the Universe. When we are connected to the Tao, life ceases to be a struggle. Through the observation of Nature, the Taoists learned to flow with the stream of energy and forces in the Universe. Cosmic Healing uses a variety of hand movements and body postures to get connected to the energy around us. We draw the energy from the six directions into the body, activate the three fires, open the three Tan Tiens and circulate this energy in the Microcosmic Orbit.

Warm-Ups:

1. Rotate Sacrum: Activates Sacrum Pump - problem because we sit on tailbone.
2. Spinal Cord Breathing: Activates Cranial Pump, Heart, and Thymus by pushing chin back.
3. Shake the Tailbone: Relaxes & opens up the Sacrum and Tailbone.
4. Swatting Down Straight: Sink Down to the ground (Grounding) reaching into the space beyond the earth by using the mind.

The Three Fires refer to the fore energy within the lower abdomen, the door of life and the heart center.

- 9) Next move the hands down to the navel.
- 10) Feel the chi opening the lower Tan Tien.
- 11) Cut to the sides of the body, and extend the energy from the fingers into the center of the lower Tan Tien.

Cosmic Connection to the Six Directions:

The goal of Cosmic Channeling is to connect ourselves to the forces and energies in the six directions. We want to extend our minds to connect with the infinite space and energy around us.
